

NASDAQ OMX Copenhagen Weekly Turnover Report, Week 34 2010

This report shows the aggregated turnover since start of the current reference period for 25 instruments on NASDAQ OMX Copenhagen. The 25 instruments are selected based on Free Float adjusted Market Value. The value is based on the most recent free float review, which could be up to 6 months old.

The free float adjustment factors used for the revised OMXC20 selection in June/December will be calculated using figures from the first two weeks of April/October. Thereby, the free float market cap calculated within this report is based on the most recent published free float factors which may differ from the factors that will be used for the upcoming selection in June/December.

This list should therefore just be seen as an indicative selection report.
